Press Release

NEC Unified Solutions and Digital Telecommunications Corporation Partner for Long-term Success

Long-time NEC partner celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary

Irving, TX, June 15, 2007 — NEC Unified Solutions, Inc., a leading provider of VoIP and data communications, celebrates a long-standing partnership with Digital Telecommunications Corporation (DTC), an exclusive NEC distributor for more than 20 years, and recognizes its 25th year in business. Since 1982, DTC has been providing voice solutions to enterprise, corporate and SMB markets and is also an NEC partner in the Vertical Market Specialist Program providing converged solutions for government, education, healthcare and hospitality. A full service company, DTC provides flexible maintenance plans insuring the long-term support of NEC's solutions.

In addition, DTC recently announced that it is a Double Diamond Associate of NEC Unified Solutions' (NEC) Alliance Recognition Program. NEC Unified Solutions, a leader in converged communications solutions for the enterprise and small to medium businesses, created the Alliance program to recognize Associates' sales achievements, business strengths and to solidify the partnership between Associates and NEC.

"DTC began as a small business, selling telecommunications systems to small-to-medium-sized businesses," said Gordon Maccani, CEO and Founder, DTC. "For more than 20 years, NEC has gone above and beyond to provide the products, resources, training and support needed to allow me to grow my business. We're excited to celebrate this important anniversary for our business and continue to grow within the NEC family."

"As a long-time valued partner of NEC, we congratulate DTC on reaching this 25-year milestone," said Larry Levenberg, vice president and general manager, National Channel, NEC Unified Solutions. "The success of companies like DTC is a testament to the dedication NEC has for its partners and to our commitment to providing the resources necessary to help our valued Associates reach their full potential."
